

Sprint Report #2 Product: Digital Cookbook, Team: “Too many cooks”, November 3rd 2019

Actions to stop doing:

- The team should stop creating tasks that are too large to fit within the allotted time frame of 2-4 hours. The size of these tasks interrupted workflow and made it difficult to meet the TA recommended 2 repo pulls a week

Actions to start doing:

- The team should start meeting up all together more, as even one member missing out on a meeting can lead to desynchronization of information and further confusion later down the line.

Action to continue doing:

- The team should continue communicating on Discord to keep the rest of the team updated on what each member is doing and also to ask for reviews on pull requests, in order to finish tasks.
- The team should continue adding comments on Trello and formatting the User Stories properly, a practice that was started after Sprint 1
